

Contents

Prologue

Chapter 1 Rain in the Nepal Himalayas

Encounter with the Himalayas

Rainy Kathmandu

Rain measurements in the mountains

Flying in the clouds

The nature of nocturnal rain

Toward long-term climate monitoring

< Column 1 Lesotho as a water division of the Pacific and Atlantic >

Chapter 2 Clouds and precipitation in the Tibetan Plateau

The function of air pressure

Journey to the plateau

The world's first Doppler Radar observation

Rain that does not reach the ground

Where does the water come from?

Winter in Tibet

< Column 2 Going to Mt. Kilimanjaro—efforts to coexist with mountain environments >

Chapter 3 Forests and snow cover in the mountains of central Japan

Is mountain weather changeable?

It was the ice needle

Forest phenology and the cold-air pool

Wetting powder snow cover

< Column 3 Fog in Yunnan and a sea of clouds in Japan—destiny of inspiration >

Epilogue